with members of the Dulwich Centre Faculty

Dates: 16th – 20th November 2020

Cost: $1200 (includes 10% GST)

This one week training program is designed for those practitioners who have already attended a Level One intensive or its equivalent and would like to extend their knowledge and skills of narrative therapy. This skill-building workshop will be tailored to the interests and contexts of group members. Areas to be addressed include:

- The clinical implications of what is absent but implicit
- Narrative responses to trauma
- Outsider witness groups using those with insider knowledge
- Ways of scaffolding conversations through different narrative questions
- Developing experience-near questions to expose normalising judgements and discourses
- Using narrative ideas in a variety of contexts — individual, couple, family, and group therapy
- Weaving practices together in ways that follow the preferences of those we work with
- Slowing down interviews to explore the effects of different practices and to expand our range of possibilities.

Methods to be included:

- Reviewing videotapes
- Engaging together in interviews
- Exercises designed to practice skills and engage more fully in the narrative worldview.

PLEASE NOTE: Participants must have attended a Level 1 Intensive or its equivalent in order to attend this workshop.
